HOW 'BOUT AN APPLE? First grader Stanley Schigut asks first grader Ann Wells a traditional question. Cameron classes begin Friday and continue in earnest Tuesday. But Stanley, isn't that apple for the teacher? He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schigut, of Cameron. Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wells, also of Cameron.

With F.M.L.

James Brock is soft spoken. But don't let his quiet manner deceive. He can tell you about Western art, a field of art in which he is professionally involved.

He told Rotarians Wednesday about a famous Western painter, Charles Russell, whose pioneering efforts in painting the West as he saw it in early days Wyoming ultimately brought him wealth, out of poverty.

James described the history of Western art through the artistic growth of that Wyoming painter, who completed 2600 pieces of Western art and sculpture in his career.

James himself has painted Indians, horses and cows and Western scenes until he has become a professional in his own right. He mentioned the Amos Carter Museum of Western Art, in Fort Worth, which houses some of the finest examples of Western Art in the United States.

There is also a Cowboy Museum in Oklahoma City which presents the story of the West's cowboy, such as the inimitable Will Rogers, who was a friend of Russell's.

James is also a trainer of quarterhorses, this work taking him out of state, because of the scarcity of specialists in this field. But he spends considerable time pointing his favorite subjects in a studio he has built outside his home just north of Cameron.

And he is a fine example of that Western gentleman, free spirit and individualist, the Westerner or, in this case, the Texan, his modest kind said to be vanishing with the march of modernization through the Southwest and West.

Is it well that a man like James Brock, when discussing a subject he knows and loves, speaks with clarity and assurance.

It would prove, perhaps, that a quiet man surprises even himself when he brings art to word life from the podium.

Tax Payers Approve Branchville School Annexation Saturday

A Bond Assumption election Saturday endorsed the Cameron School Board annexation of the Branchville School District with 225 votes cast.

Official count in the Cameron Independent School District vote showed 205 for Bond assumption, 20 against; and 199 for tax equalization, 22 against.

The election was required before final annexation by Cameron of the Branchville District.

Supt. D. R. Dodson said about 125 children will be added to the Cameron School enrollment as a result of the annexation. The dependent 10 grade Branchville school has four teachers. It will be used as an 8 grade elementary school this year with parents given the choice of entering their children in Branchville, O. J. Thomas, or Yoe High School.

Enrollment expected in the CISD this fall is 1,650 students.

Three Ex-Convicts Arrested In City; Charged With Theft

Three Waco men were arrested here Saturday and charged with stealing from a cash register at Mondrik's Grocery.

Police Chief Frank Chapman made the arrest at 12:40 p.m. Saturday at the store.

Held in Milam County Jail under $3,000 bond are Horace Howard, 32, James Hackworth, 24, and Joe Hall, 36. All listed Waco addresses.

Milam County Sheriff Carl Black said the men were also charged in Bell County in a similar theft from a Temple clothing store.

Black said all three have criminal records and have served recent terms in the State Penitentiary.

Council Names 7-Member Urban Renewal Board

COUNCIL LISTS SIX PROJECTS FOR STREETS

The City Council Monday night canvassed returns of the Saturday Urban Renewal planning election and voted to begin or complete six paving projects. The Council voted to finish projects already underway or to begin several others within the next few weeks.

Given in order of priority, they are:

ONE - East Eighth St. paving from North Jackson to North Fannin.

TWO - Two blocks on East Seventh St. from North Jackson east.

THREE - Country Club Drive from East 12th St. to east side of Litzman property.

FOUR - Wallace Blvd. preparation for curb and gutter followed by paving later.

FIVE - Adams Street from E. Fourth St. to North Jackson north.

SIX - Contact work by Councilman Lawrence Zolt with property owners on North Austin from East 16th St. to East 22nd St.

Mayor Bassel Wilson said the first three projects would be completed after completion of the street surface is satisfactory.

And he said all the projects, except the sixth, would probably be completed within the next few weeks. The final project would likely begin in the spring unless property owners act quickly before fall and winter rains.

4 Sentenced In District Court On Burglary Charges

Refugio Banda and Ramiro Banda of Buckholts and Thomas Corona of Cameron were given 3 year probation sentences in Milam District Court August 23.

Judge W. C. Wallace assessed the penalties after the three pleaded guilty to burglary of the Stafford Gordon Store in Cameron on July 7, 1966.

Joe Arthur Phillips pleaded guilty to burglary of the T. B. Stidham Store in Jones Prairie on February 28, 1966 and received a 5 year sentence in the Texas Department of Corrections. County Attorney John Henderson Jr. said Phillips is originally from Snyder, Texas.

70 Hear Membership Report . . .

120 Give $65,000 Thus Far

About 70 members of Cameron Industrial Foundation, Inc., and visitors Monday heard reports from members of CIF and received membership stock certificates.

Secretary-treasurer Henry Siebman read off a list of about 120 firms and individuals which have contributed $100 or more to the fund, now exceeding $65,000, up another $2,000 since last week's report.

He passed out about 50 certificates of stock to members. Others may be picked up or be received through the mail.

President N. L. Caperton welcomed the group to the first membership meeting since the Town Meeting April 23, which kicked off the fund drive for $100,000.

And Caperton explained that sessions are underway now for an industrial team, being conducted by Tom Heath, TP&L industrial specialist and other TP&L industrial experts.

Members of the team are: Bill Burns, Albert Collins, James C. Camp, Don G. Humble, Jack DuBois, E. A. Perrin, Richard Williams and Siebman.

Survey Planning To Begin Soon

Following a canvass of the 268-115 vote favoring the Urban Renewal special election, the City Council Monday met with the planning Commission, and later named an urban renewal board of seven members.

The Council named these seven Cameron business and civic leaders to the board:

E. A. Perrin, Monroe Fuchs, Don G. Humble, Miss Mildred Thornton, Bill Burns, Porter Young and James C. Camp.

During the earlier joint session of the Planning Commission and Council, Plans chairman, A. W. McCullin expressed appreciation to the Mayor and City Council, to the nine-member Planning Commission, to the news media and other persons for their assistance in supporting the planning election.

McCullin urged continued united effort to make the planning phase of the program move as smoothly as possible.

The 368-115 vote favoring the City entering into urban renewal planning was the first major step for a program of urban renewal in a 20-block area in downtown Cameron.

The Planning Commission will continue to function, McCullin said, to assist the urban renewal board and the City Council.

Stanley J. Poturski and James B. Green, representatives of Bernard Johnson Engineering, Houston firm were introduced by McCullin. The Houston firm was recommended and retained by the City to conduct the engineering and survey work, but could not begin work on a preliminary survey planning application for a federal grant until the vote was decided.

Green will be the engineering representative in Cameron during the survey work. The Bernard Johnson officials said preliminary plans would be completed for the application within 30 days.

Mayor Wilson expressed his appreciation to the voters and all those who supported the election.

McCullin was elated Saturday night, as was the Mayor, when tabulations showed the 3-1 margin.

Predictions prior to the Saturday vote were for a 2-1 margin in favor of the urban renewal planning proposal. It was for the planning proposal and was not a vote for bonds or revenue.

HOLIDAY MONDAY

Monday, September 5, Labor Day, is an official holiday for Cameron according to the Chamber of Commerce holiday calendar. Most local stores and offices will be closed for the long weekend before school opens. Other holidays this year will be Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year.

Buckholts Man Critical Following Accident Sunday

Refugio Banda, 29, given a probation sentence in Milam District Court last week, is in Milam County jail following an accident near Buckholts late Sunday.

Banda, charged with breaking probation, was arrested by Sheriff Carl Black after the pick-up truck he was driving struck Joe Gonzales, about 63, on the Corinth FM road south of Buckholts at 8:30 p.m. Sunday.

Black said Banda had been drinking at the time of the accident.

Black said Gonzales apparently was walking in the darkened road. He is in critical condition at Newton Memorial Hospital, Cameron.

Banda had received a three year suspended sentence after being found guilty on a burglary charge August 23 in Milam District Court.

leasing or purchasing a site adjacent to a new airport for industrial development, Wells said.

PRIDE IN CAMERON Albert Collins, member of the membership committee, told stockholders and visitors of his enthusiasm for the industrial foundation because he had pride in Cameron and worked for industrial growth even though he only owned his own home.

He said a recent survey showed that 160 Texas towns would go out of existence in future years and that he was confident Cameron would not be one of them.

Bill Burns, chairman of the membership and finance committee, asked for volunteer help in contacting individuals in Cameron outside the business community. He said practically all businesses had been contacted.

And Frank Luecke, of the publicity committee, showed a sketch of a sign planned by the CIF to be emplaced on tall posts at the intersection of US 77-SH 25 at the Schiller used car lot, courtesy of Milton and Jerry Schiller.

The group discussed other prospects informally over a coffee after the meeting at First Methodist Fellowship Hall.

Researchers Say Soybean Adaptable To Central Texas

Scientists at Texas Research Foundation are all smiles over prospects for a new soybean variety adapted to a large part of North, Central and East Texas. The new bean has been named the John Alford in honor of the late East Texas leader of Henderson.

Soybeans are at the highest price ever, and more production is needed to satisfy demand for the oil-seed crop.

Farmers have been trying small acreages of soybeans for years in the Blacklands with hit and miss luck. The lack of a dependable year-in-year out variety is the big reason farmers haven't cashed in on the growing market.

"We know it's just a matter of time until soybeans come into their own in the Blacklands," said Dr. C. L. Lundell, director of the Foundation at Renner. "The major problem has been the breeding of a variety adapted to this area. The new Alford, bred at Renner, has great potential from the Waco area northward," Dr. Lundell said.

Growing now at Renner - and doing fine - are some 50 acres of the Alford soybean. The Foundation is considering release of the Alford to selected growers for further seed increase in 1967.

The soybean research program has two objectives: to develop adapted varieties; and to determine and overcome cultural factors limiting commercial soybean production in North Texas.

Soybeans have been potentials and problems today in the Blacklands and related soil areas, Dr. Lundell said. On the plus side are these factors:

1. The Blacklands produce a No. 1 quality bean.
2. Soybeans are to be planted in June, and can also be double cropped since they can be planted in oat or wheat stubble.
3. In 20 years' research at Renner, soybeans have done well when late summer moisture was adequate.
4. A ready market awaits soybeans.
5. Present farm equipment may be used for handling the crop.
6. The crop is inexpensive to grow, about like grain sorghum. Disadvantages are these, Dr. Lundell said:

1. Soybeans are subject to cotton root rot, hence they should not be planted on soil badly infested with root rot.
2. Moisture must be adequate for the crop to produce.
3. Insects - especially stink bugs and blister beetles - must be controlled.
4. Although the soybean is a legume and may add some nitrogen to the soil, it does not produce a great amount of plant residue.

Dr. Lundell believes soybeans have exceptional promise on bottomlands, such as those along the Brazos, Red and Trinity rivers, where shallow well irrigation is available. "If you can give them just one good irrigation, you can be assured of making an excellent crop of beans," Dr. Lundell added.

As for seedbed preparation, soybeans require a "fine, mellow and moist seedbed for good germination and plant growth. A little extra time spent in seedbed preparation often saves time later in weed control," the Director explained. For best results make the same seedbed you would for cotton or grain sorghum.

When following a small grain crop the same growing season, use a minimum of tillage, preferably only once or twice over with a tandem disc, to conserve moisture.

Fertilizer use for soybeans is still a question. Generally, fertilize according to soil test.

About the middle of August, the grower should be on the lookout for stink bug and the blister beetle. Both can be readily controlled with insecticides.

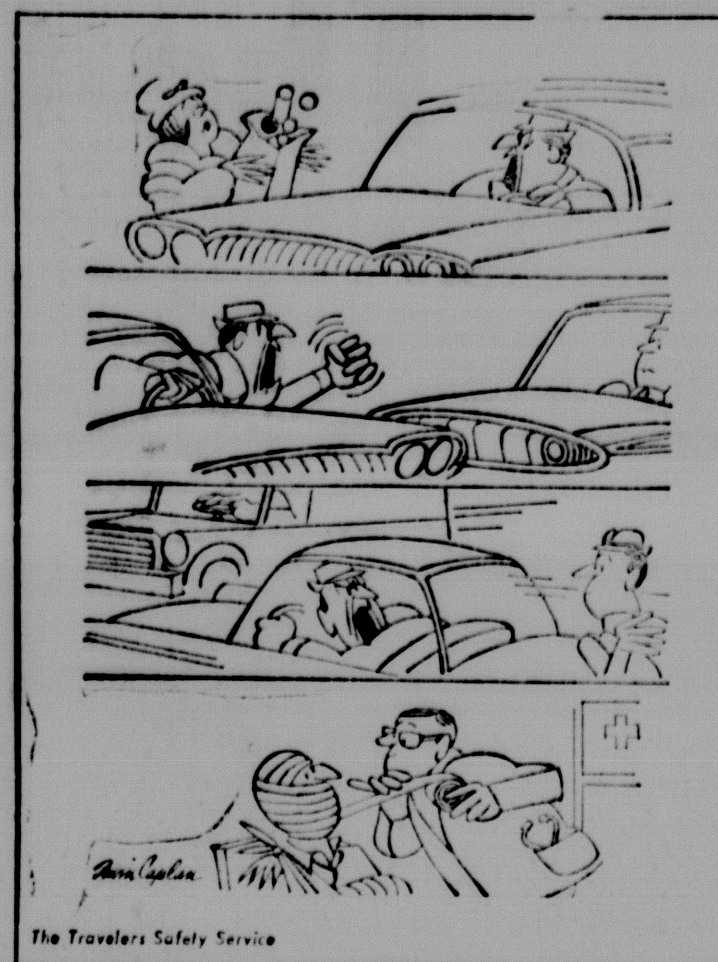

Harvesting is done with minor adjustments to a combine, and is done in the fall when the plant has shed its leaves and pods are dry with moisture content of the beans about 15 per cent.

The new Alford bean - now planted for seed increase - will be ready for harvest at Renner in late October.

Miss Cheryl Chamberlain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Chamberlain of Cameron, has been selected to receive a $100 scholarship given through the Texas Woman's University Foundation by the Milam County Chapter, Texas Woman's University Alumnae Association. Miss Chamberlain is a sophomore student at TWU majoring in secretarial administration. She works part-time on campus as a dietary assistant for the University. She is a 1965 graduate of Yoe High School. The Milam County Chapter Alumnae have been instrumental in providing a number of scholarships for Milam County girls during the past ten years.

You Bet Your Life

Flagrant disregard of the rights of others is a prime cause of accidents.

House Passes Two Highway Safety Bills

The House has passed two rather far-reaching highway safety bills this week. One related directly to highways, the other to the manufacture and equipment of new automobiles. I voted for both of them although I very definitely don't expect them to eliminate highway accidents as some people suggest. As long as human beings do the driving there will be accidents. We can only provide reasonable rules for the use of highways and vehicles. As our life becomes more complex we need more rules but I fear that we have provided almost all the rules our people can assimilate.

The House and Senate have agreed on an animal care and pet stealing bill. I think we have come up with a good compromise. I am proud to have sponsored the legislation for better treatment of dumb animals both in the laboratories and earlier in our slaughterhouses.

We were unsuccessful in getting an R. E. A. supplemental financing bill out of the Subcommittee yesterday. It failed by a tie vote 13 to 13. The revised bill (Committee Print No. 11) would have passed had not the ranking Republican exercised his right to vote in the Subcommittee. He has always had this right but has never exercised it during my thirty years until this R. E. A. bill was under consideration.

OUTDOOR TIPS

NYLON SOAP CONTAINER
Drop a bar of soap on the ground at camp and it gets covered with dirt that's hard to get off.

Eliminate this nuisance by dropping your soap in the toe of an old nylon stocking. Hang the stocking near the wash basin and soap up without removing the bar from the stocking.

Suds come right through the fine nylon mesh.

RODS IN COMBO
Ads often offer "combination" casting and spinning rods.

Such a rod, if of high quality, can be used as a makeshift, or in an emergency. But for best results use casting rods for casting and spin rods for spin fishing.

MRS. PHILLIP HUBNIK

Ceremony Unites Hendrix, Hubnik

At 6:30 p.m., Saturday, August 27th, in Mt. Carmel Catholic Church, Miss Thelma Lea Hendrix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Hendrix, became the bride of Phillip John Hubnik, of Austin, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Hubnik of Cameron.

The Rev. Father Taylor officiated. Altar boy was the groom's nephew, Charles Vansa of Buckholts.

Mrs. Kenneth Simpson played traditional wedding music.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Her gown of delustered candlelight satin was fashioned with an empire bodice and straight skirt. Etching the portrait neckline and elbow length sleeves, were re-embroidered chantilly lace and seed pearl appliques. Re-embroidered chantilly lace motifs adorned the chapel length Watteau train.

Her bouffant veil of silk French illusion was held by a double queen's crown of pearl and aurore-rosebuds. She carried a prayer book, a gift of the groom, topped with an orchid and Stephanotis.

Large baskets of gladiolus were placed on the main altar and family pews were marked with white satin bows and streamers.

Mrs. O. D. Bradford Jr. of Winters, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a floor-length dress of delustered apple-green satin, styled with empire bodice. Chocolate brown Alencon lace covered the bodice and floating Watteau panel.

Miss Janice Meuth, of Austin, and Miss Maria Shaw, of Winters, were bridesmaids. They wore dresses identical to the matron of honor, with the exception of the bodice which was of delustered apple green satin.

The attendants wore velvet petal hats of apple green with brief veils of illusion. They carried colonial bouquets of carnations and Stephanotis with Japanese leaves and greenery.

Miss Anne Minzenmayer of Winters and Miss Donna Dolmahak of Temple were flower girls.

Mike Mays of Lubbock was ring bearer.

Jimmie Williams of Austin was best man, Randy Fluitt of Austin, and Michael Hendrix, brothers of the bride, were groomsmen.

Wayne Pease of Austin and J. F. Priddy, of Winters, ushered guests.

Mrs. Michael Hendrix registered guests at the reception following the ceremony.

22 BIRDSHOT CARTRIDGES

If you are one of those rare sportsmen who is so good a shot with conventional shotgun loads that there is little challenge left, try shooting birds - quail and smaller game - with a 22 rifle, loaded with shot-filled cartridges. Sizes 8, 9, and 10 are good shot sizes to use.

Using such a pee-wee load is guaranteed to test the skill of even the best marksman - and the shot won't hurt your gun barrel.

Jekel received his Bachelor of Science Degree from A&M in 1951 and his Master of Science Degree from the University of Houston in 1958.

Brahmas Scrimmage Here

Cameron Yoemen and Bellville Brahmas will scrimmage there tonight (Thursday) on Yoe Field at 6:30 p.m. Lettermen returning for the Brahmas will be led by Bellville's outstanding quarterback, Ditmore, and probably 5 offensive starters from last year's championship team. Coach Fuqua said, "I don't expect them to be as big as last year, but they are a strong team."

Cameron Yoemen and Gatesville Panthers scrimmaged last Thursday night on Yoe Field. Wayne Kirk, left end for the Yoemen, broke his shoulder in the scrimmage game and Coach Fuqua says he probably won't be back on the field for the next 4 weeks. Al Heft is a likely replacement for Kirk.

Films from the Gatesville scrimmage showed that Cameron did a better job than the score indicated. Gatesville is big and fast, so Yoemen tackling was off and the scrimmage "showed us where we needed to work," Coach Fuqua said.

Outstanding Yoemen in the scrimmage was James Dohnalik. Fuqua said, "Quarterbacks Glenn Fogle and Don Mitchell looked good. Steve Smith did a fine job at center, and Don Manley, Bill Goetze and Leo Michalka all looked good." Wayne Kirk was credited for a fine job of blocking.

Other players out with injuries are Johnny McLerran, who suffered an acute neck sprain Saturday morning and John Urban with a broken thumb. Paul Chandler is out with pneumonia.

Coach Fuqua said, "Participation is off this year and blames air conditioned cars and a poor showing for the sophomore team last year."

Ten sophomores have dropped out since practice started and 8 freshmen that had signed up either dropped out or didn't come out. Yoemen problems seem to be following a trend in other Central Texas schools with most coaches reporting a drop in football participation compared with previous years.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezackrie Wesley of Cameron are the proud parents of a girl, Eula Faye, born August 30 at 1:55 a.m., weighing 5 pounds 4 1/2 ounces.

Steaks Are In Spotlight For Holiday Outings

Steaks for outdoor grilling will be featured at some supermarkets as the Labor Day weekend rolls around.

Beef cuts expected to be on special include steaks, chuck roasts and liver, says Mrs. Gwen Clayt, Texas A&M University Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Since steak is one of the most popular meats for outdoor grilling, many customers have questions about the best way to cook a steak on a grill, Mrs. Clayt notes. Here are some of the most frequently asked questions from backyard chefs.

Question: How can you keep a steak from curling during cooking?

Answer: Slice the fat edges of the steak before cooking.

Q. How often should a steak be turned during cooking?

A. Once is all that's necessary. Broil until brown on first side, turn it, and continue cooking the other side. Use tongs to turn the steak without piercing it, robbing a steak with a fork causes an undue loss in juices.

Q. When should a steak be salted - before or after grilling?

A. Salt each side after grilling. This is important because the seasoning may draw the flavorful juices to the surface and slow the browning process.

Q. How can you tell when a steak is done?

A. Cut a slit in the steak with a sharp knife. Cut near the bone, if there is one. Look at the color inside. If it's red, it's rare; pink is medium, and brown is well done.

Financial Planning Helps Achieve Goals

Make your own family financial spending plan based on a simple set of fundamental principles. This is the recommendation of today's money management specialist, Mrs. Wanda Meyer of Texas A&M University.

Gain a better idea of where your money goes by keeping a record of your expenditures for a month or so. Then record all the fixed major items of expense you must meet. This would include rent or mortgage payments, heat and utility costs, insurance, car payments, contributions, real estate taxes, and installment payments. You must provide for these obligations first.

Plan your daily expenses, such as food, clothing, and clothing care, car expenses other than monthly payments, and medical and dental expenses. You'll find this area of your budget is flexible.

Day to day expenses are adjustable. For example, your family's tastes, size, number of times you eat out, and your cooking and shopping skills have a bearing on the amount of daily expenditures.

Next, establish an emergency fund to take care of the unexpected. A frequent recommendation is an amount equal to your income for 3 to 6 months.

Do you believe that the idea of setting up a family spending and saving plan may seem to limit your spending options? Actually says Mrs. Meyer, many families find that financial planning helps them reach their desired goals and still be financially independent.

NO MOW GRASS GROWS IN SHADE - Researchers at Texas A&M University have found a turfgrass that grows well in moderate shade. It's called No Mow. Most grass becomes spindly and weak when shaded. This grass actually does better in moderate shade than in the sunlight, says Dr. George McBee, turfgrass specialist at A&M.

Tomato Growers Ready Houses

By J. D. Moore

The Lawhorns, Terrys, McDaniels, and Bianos are getting their houses ready to go down with tomato plants about September 10 to 15.

The S. C. Blands are new growers and live on the east side of old Hwy 77, north of Rockdale. Mr. Bland built an economical house about 30 x 100 feet, has the soil fumigated and will be ready for his plants the first part of September.

After trying several varieties of tomatoes, some of our growers are going back to the Tuck-cross variety that they started with. It is a rewarding experience to watch these families use complicated scientific information like veterans and their inherited pioneer spirit to produce, erases any imagination we may have of a shortage of food in the near future.

The Lawhorns are growing their own tomato plants which is a new venture for them. Plants for their first house are up and growing.

They plan to set these first plants September 10 to 15.

Harvest Cotton For Quality

According to Fred Elliott, Cotton Work Specialist, farmers are encouraged to harvest for quality cotton. From a quality standpoint, the basic objective in harvesting is to keep moisture and trash content to a minimum. Their removal at the gin creates a major quality preservation problem. Excessive moisture and the presence of green leaf also cause quality losses in storage.

The moisture and trash content factor in seed cotton is related to prevailing weather, plant condition, and machine adjustment and operation. Important guidelines to consider are: 1. Moisture of seed cotton in the field should be 10 percent or less. 2. Machines must be conditioned prior to harvesting. 3. Operators must be trained. and 4. Seed cotton of varying trash and moisture content should not be mixed in the same trailer.

FOOD STILL A GOOD BUY

Even with recent increases in food prices, food is still a bargain, says Frank Orts, Extension meats specialist at Texas A&M University. Today's consumer spends only 18 percent of disposable income for food, he says.

The Milam County 4-H and Farm Bureau Swine Show was held Saturday, August 27, at the Livestock Auction barn in Cameron. The purpose of the show was to teach the contestants the proper way to fit and show swine, and to have them show how well they had fed and managed their gilts.

This was the final placing on the 4-H gilts: 1st, Mike Towery, Thorndale 4-H; 2nd, Mark Gause, Gause 4-H; 3rd, Ricky Richter, St. Anthony 4-H; 4th, Edmond Tepera, Marak 4-H; 5th, Tommy Terrell, Branchville 4-H; 6th, Elizabeth Nelson, Griffin Chapel 4-H; 7th, Clyde Jistel, St. Anthony 4-H; 8th, Christene Kerr, Davine 4-H; 9th, Carl Wilson, Gause 4-H; and 10th, Ella Wilson, Milano 4-H.

Mike Towery, 1st place winner will show his gilt at the District Show in Waco, September 10.

The contestants received their gilts on April 7, 1966, and they have been working hard since that time to raise an outstanding gilt. Earlier this month they received training on Fitting & Showing Swine, from the county agents office.

Henry Abel, Jr., from the Sharp Community, did a very fine job of judging the show. Henry was an outstanding 4-H'er in Milam county and has shown swine in many of the major shows in Texas.

Housing was decided on as the major emphasis in the 1967 plan of work, and a "Home Show" will be held in March.

Those present were: Mrs. Wavy Charles, and Mrs. George Young from Tracy; Mrs. J. H. Angell, Mrs. Ronald Bailey, Mrs. J. B. Sapp and Mrs. R. R. Martinez from Cameron; Mrs. Lloyd Lamere and Mrs. D. D. Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office in Cameron, Texas, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879. Published every Thursday.

On The Move . .

Should Cameron allow large areas of its central business district to age, just because other towns and cities do?

No, said Cameronites, 368 to 115, favoring instead a planning program for downtown streets, curbing, parking and beautification in what is estimated to be a 20-block area.

It was the final turn of events that began several years ago. No one will agree just when it began or what project it began with, but it is quite certain 3 out of 4 people agree it has happened.

What Others Say . .

Oases In The Wasteland

We hope the 1966-67 television season will be known as the year when good drama returned to America video screens. There is, surprisingly, ground for this hope.

It is indicative of a trend that a network for the first time has just outbid Broadway for the first showing of a new play. The National Broadcasting Company has obtained William Hanley's "Flesh and Blood" with an offer more attractive to the playwright than the one he was about to accept from a Broadway producer.

It was not only the record-making price of $112,500 that proved a superior inducement to the author, but the assurance he received that he would retain "creative control," in short, that there would be no significant changes made in his work.

Other networks are earmarking large sums to encourage writing of distinguished drama especially for television. There was a promising flowering of talent in this field in the 1950's (now called television's Golden Age) but the 1960's have seen leading television script

This sleeping giant, become restive, this historic community of Cameron, is now saying "yes" with precise regularity.

New airport? Yes. New library? Yes. New streets? Yes. New industrial foundation? Yes. New school techniques? Yes. New downtown? YES.

There is a great deal of work ahead, but it is a challenge accepted, not just by a majority of voters last Saturday, but by 75 per cent who stepped up, as property owners, to the ballot box.

Cameron is, in fact, on the move.

writers flee to the legitimate theatre. They were apparently discouraged by the commercial restrictions put upon them by the networks.

Now, happily, they are being wooed back. Indicative of a new policy is Columbia Broadcasting System's allotment of $500,000 for purchase of dramas written expressly for its medium. American Broadcasting Company's tentative program for 1967 casts eminent actors in original comedies and dramas. National Educational Television, among its 40 new programs, will give national production of some off-Broadway plays as well as one it has commissioned.

Now it is up to television viewers to return to their sets (which many have abandoned except for news programs) and dial with discrimination. It is too much to expect sudden improvement in the bulk of TV fare. Nor will all the new productions be works of art. But if a choice is offered, selective viewers can do much to convince producers that it is good business to offer it.

Every sixteen minutes blindness strikes one American. This adds up to 416,000 cases of sightless persons in the United States; 32,700 more will lose the gift of vision in the next twelve months and half of all this blindness is preventable.

Cities Asking For Tax Split

AUSTIN

Officials from major Texas cities, beset with money problems, are calling on the Legislature to allow municipalities a 50-50 split in any new broad-based state taxes enacted next year.

Gov. John Connally pledged to recommend "very substantial new sources of revenue" for the cities after a group of metropolitan area mayors conferred with him.

Question as to whether the kind of revenue-sharing plan advocated by the mayors is permissible under the state constitution will be briefed by the Texas Legislative Council at the request of House Speaker Ben Barnes.

Cities petitioned for a 50 per cent refund of any increase in the state sales tax or an equivalent amount of any new broad-based tax, with the state doing the collecting and apportioning half of new funds were paid.

While agreeing to ask the Legislature for financial relief for the cities, Connally declined to spell out the precise form and amount he will seek. He did promise there will be "no strings attached" to his recommendation.

Connally also reported an agreement for regular conferences on urban problems between the mayors and top state officials.

What will happen to the cities' request for financial assistance in a legislative session where a state tax bill of more than $200,000,000 is regarded as a certainty remains to be seen.

Some legal authorities do not believe a straight refund is possible without a constitutional amendment, although the Legislature could authorize the cities to levy their own sales tax with the state serving as collector.

NEW MANSION SOUGHT

At its initial meeting, the Texas Fine Arts Commission, created by the Legislature in 1965, recommended a new governor's mansion and said the present residence, completed in 1855, should be operated as an historic house.

Governor Connally has not yet expressed his view on a new mansion. However, last year when the State Building Commission, of which he is chairman, recommended a new $1,000,000 mansion, he differed and recommended that the money be used elsewhere.

Commission outlined a far-reaching program to encourage development of, and participation in, the arts, including traveling exhibits, festivals, awards, night-time family entertainment in communities and revived band concerts on the square.

Former Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd of Odessa was named chairman of the new agency. "RED MEANS WRONG"

You will be seeing lots of red if you drive the wrong way on a Texas freeway.

In a move to curb wrong-way freeway pileups, State Highway Department is installing red reflector buttons and pavement markers at entrances to interstate and other controlled access highways.

If you see a red arrow pointing at you from the pavement as you enter a freeway ramp, you are entering the wrong way. A straight red line pointing against you on lane lines means you are going in the wrong direction.

Highway Department has spent or obligated $76,600,000 in an overall four-year safety program.

OLD PHILOSOPHER PHILOSOPHER ASKS AN ASTRONOMICAL (There's A Big Word) QUESTION FOR SCIENTISTS

I was sitting on my front porch out here on this Johnson grass farm enjoying a moonlit summer night last week, to be exact it was Tuesday night, and I remembered reading earlier in the day in a newspaper I'd found the day before that the U. S. state lile in the latest moon shot was having a little trouble with its cameras, plus the fact the orbit around the moon wasn't at exactly the level the scientists wanted. Sometimes it was too close, other times too far away.

Then I glanced up at the moon. No wonder they're having trouble. It was just half moon.

You'd think, with all the brains they've got and all the money, somebody would have thought to look at a calendar and say, "Whoa, we can't make a perfect orbit around half a moon. Wait till it's completely round."

It's simple. Cut an apple in half, then try to draw a circle around it. Anybody can tell you one edge of the circle will be closer to the round side than the flat side. You mean to say those scientists have gotten so bogged down in figures and calculations and formulas and paper work they haven't looked up and noticed what shape the moon gets into occasionally?

Moreover, have they thought about the problem they'll have when they actually try to land a man on it? What do they think will happen if they land him there during a quarter-moon? If he lands on the inside of the curve, you know he's going to slide.

If I was an astronaut, the first thing I'd do is get me a calendar and explain to the scientists that it's printed right there: on such and such a date, the moon will be a quarter-moon; a little later, a half-moon; and finally it'll be round. Then's the time to send me up.

If the space scientists don't subscribe to The Cameron Herald, I suggest you clip this letter out and send it to them, before they make any more busts.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Rockdale Contractor

Named Milam County

Liaison For ROTC

Col. Walter E. Fischer, president of Fischer and Company, plumbing and heating contractors in Rockdale, has been named as Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) liaison officer for Milam County by Lt. Gen. Thomas W. Dunn, Fourth U. S. Army commanding general.

In this position Colonel Fischer will provide information to prospective college students in Milam County about recently increased opportunities and benefits to the ROTC student under the ROTC Vitalization Act of 1964.

This law established a competitive program for four-year ROTC scholarships which may be valued between $5,000 and $9,000, depending on the tuition charged of the various colleges and universities offering the ROTC program. It also provides a two-year program for young men who attend junior colleges not offering ROTC instruction or other qualified students not participating in the ROTC basic course (the first two of a four-year course). Under this program the basic course equivalent may be accomplished through attending a six-week summer camp at Fort Knox, Ky., thus allowing the student to enroll in the advanced ROTC course during his final two years in college.

More On Taxes: Deferment On Bond Interest

For federal income tax purposes the interest on Series E Bonds may be deferred until the year in which the bonds are cashed or reach final maturity. R. L. Phinney, District Director of Internal Revenue, reminded taxpayers today.

Although the tax deferred feature is not a new regulation, many questions on the matter have been asked of IRS and the Savings Bonds Division in view of the increase in interest rate on Series E Bonds to 4.15 per cent when held to maturity. The rate increase, announced earlier this year, is retroactive to December 1, 1965.

matril to be distributed soon by the Savings Bonds Division will contain references to the tax deferral feature. It is especially attractive when savings bonds are bought to create "tax free" college education funds and for retirement purposes. T. Guy Brown, State Director of the Savings Bonds Division, pointed out.

For instance, E Bonds may be registered in the child's name, with a parent or purchaser as beneficiary (not as co-owner). And no federal gift tax liability is incurred if the total yearly gifts to him do not exceed $3,000. At the end of the first year of bond purchases a tax return should be filed in the name of the child, listing the increase in bond value (interest) as income to the child. Filing this one return establishes the child's intent to report the interest each year. No further returns need to be filed as long as bond interest plus other income is under $600. And no tax is due until the child's income exceeds $600. Thus, when the child's bonds are cashed to meet college expenses, the accrued interest is free from income tax. A copy of the tax return filed the first year should be retained as proof of intent, should it be needed.

An alternate choice is to defer reporting of interest until the child begins cashing the bonds to pay college expenses. If his annual earnings exceed $600, the child files his own tax return, reporting the full amount of interest on redeemed bonds as income. If bond interest and other income is less than $600 (and he remains single and present tax rates apply) he will owe no tax at all. This applies only to bonds on which the child is the owner. The co-ownership form of registration may not be used unless the child buys the bonds with his own money.

SHOW-OFF

Harry is "showing-off"—and he certainly has a most appreciative audience!

We all "show-off" sometimes, in one way or another. It's a natural human tendency, and we can't be blamed for expressing it occasionally. And we are not apt to overdo it if we discover the need for humility.

Church is one place where this lesson can be learned. In God's House, we know instinctively how small we really are, which makes us more thankful for both His love and compassion.

We need this sense of coming down to size. We need to look with humble eyes at ourselves, at our fellow men, and at the miracles of God's creations.

Yes — we need to go to church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

The church is the greatest factor in world peace. It is the only place where the individual can find a sense of purpose and direction. It is the only place where the individual can find a sense of community and belonging. It is the only place where the individual can find a sense of hope and faith.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"I RECOGNIZED HIS VOICE"
It is a case of mistaken identity," protested the defendant, accused of breaking into a woman's home at night and assaulting her. "She herself admits the house was pitch dark."

But the woman countered: "Even though I could not see him, I recognized his voice. I have known him for years, and I am certain he was the man." May an accused person be convicted solely by the sound of his voice? In this case the jury believed the woman's story, and the court upheld its verdict of guilty. True, a criminal is ordinarily identified by sight, not by sound. But his voice, even when not conclusive evidence by itself, may still play a key role in identification. The law recognizes that, in some circumstances, what a victim hears may reveal a lot more than what he sees.

Thus, identification-by-voice has been allowed not only in crimes committed in the dark but also in crimes committed by a masked man - or even committed over the telephone. A man who made obscene calls to a woman was convicted largely on the basis of her identification of his voice on the telephone.

But what if the criminal's voice is one that the victim has never heard prior to the crime? Even then, it may be distinctive enough to be recognized later with reasonable certainty.

In one case, a holdup victim noticed that the robber had a peculiar accent. This was held valid evidence in court that the defendant, who had a similar accent, was the guilty man.

In addition to a criminal's voice, other sounds he makes may also help to pinpoint his identity. The sound of a man's footsteps and the sound of a car's exhaust - both distinctive - have been held admissible in the courtroom.

Even the sound of a dog's barking has been held sufficient to identify him as the nocturnal slayer of a farmer's sheep.

Of course this kind of evidence, like any other, may be rejected if it is just too flimsy.

For example, in a homicide case, a witness was notably hesitant in tagging the voice of the defendant as the voice of the killer. The court held that such evidence was not convincing enough to send a man to prison for murder.

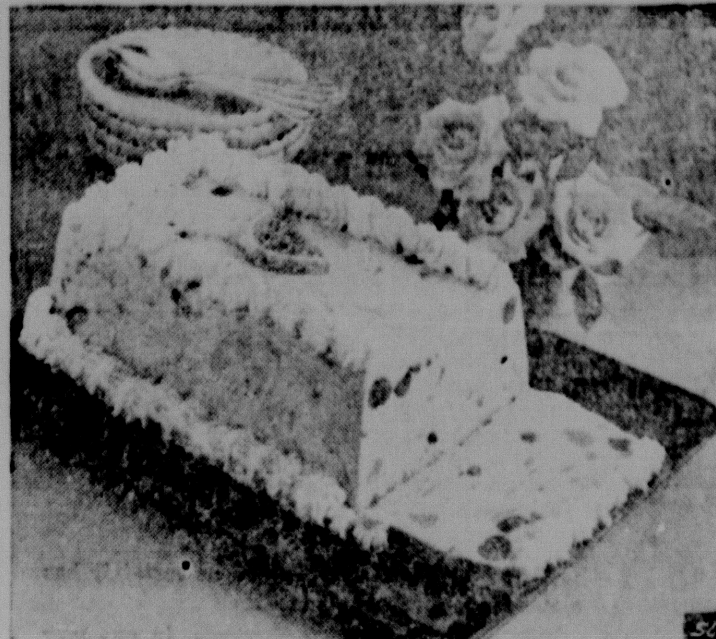

"Conjecture," observed one judge "is not proof."

A Finale From The Freezer

Who says a flair with food means hours in the kitchen? Certainly not the Borden home economists who fashioned this Cherry-Cream Freeze. With convenience foods—the traditional sweetened condensed milk and the modern canned pie-filling—it's made in minutes. Just blend milk, cherry filling, and fruit with whipped cream, then freeze for the future. For that extra fancy occasion, flute top and base with whipped cream rosettes.

Cherry-Cream Freeze

(Makes about 2 quarts)

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1-1/3 cups (15-oz. can) Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk | 3/4 cup (9-oz. can) crushed pineapple, well-drained |
| 1/4 cup reconstituted lemon juice | 1/4 teaspoon almond extract |
| 2-1/2 cups (1-lb. 5-oz. can) cherry pie-filling | 2 cups (1 pint) heavy cream, whipped |

In large-size mixing bowl combine sweetened condensed milk, lemon juice, pie-filling, crushed pineapple, and almond extract; mix well. Gently fold in whipped cream until evenly blended. Turn mixture into a 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pan. Cover tightly with aluminum foil. Freeze for 24 hours or until thoroughly firm. Unmold onto serving tray. If desired, additional whipped cream may be piped through decorators' tube to garnish top and base.

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ

Are You The Victim of Fears?

By Jane Sherrod Singer

"He who feels he will suffer, already suffers because of his fears." Thus spoke Michael Montaigne with a deep understanding of the human mind and emotion. Are you a victim of the unknown? The feeling of fears?

- YES NO
- When you meet unfamiliar people or situations, do your hands or feet feel cold and clammy?
 - Does the sight or sound of police sirens, a harsh echo in the night keep you awake?
 - Do you often feel that you are incorrectly dressed for the occasion?
 - Are you plagued by bad dreams?
 - Does the thought of going to a doctor disturb you?
 - Do you keep your doors and windows locked at all times?
 - Would you rather stay home than to explore new places?
 - Do you dislike shadows?
 - Is the thought of your inevitable death a horrible idea?
 - Are certain animals repulsive to you?

If you have 10 NO answers you are so calm you may be a vegetable. What? No apprehensions at all? According to studies, you are kidding yourself.

4 YES-answers: This rates you in the normal bracket, for most people have certain areas of fear.

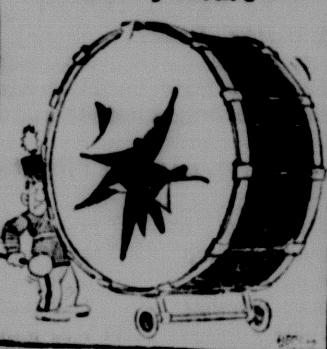

5-7 YES-answers: You tend to live under the cloak of terror. Remember what the great psychologist William James said, "Fear of life in one form or another is the great thing to exercise."

8-10 YES-answers: Everyday is demons' day for you. Break into the sunlight of the positive. "There is great beauty in going through life without anxiety or fear. Half our fears are baseless, and the other half discreditable." (Christian Bovee)

More On How Medicare Works; Credits For $50 Deductible

By Jack Calvert
District Manager

Social Security Administration
The medical insurance program under Medicare will not pay anything toward the cost of the first $50 of your expenses for covered services in a calendar year. This $50 deductible is like the deductibles in automobile insurance policies which provide that the insurance company pays only the part of the repair bill that exceeds a certain amount.

In figuring when you meet the $50 deductible under the medical insurance program, you will count expenses for doctors' services; for other covered medical services and items; and for home health services, but not those paid for under the hospital insurance plan.

In addition, if you have met the $20 deductible for outpatient diagnostic services under the hospital insurance plan, that $20 can count toward the $50 deductible under the medical insurance plan.

You cannot count toward the deductible expenses for those items that are not covered by medical insurance. For example, you cannot count payments you make for: prescription drugs; inpatient hospital services; eyeglasses; false teeth; routine physical examinations; or services provided by practitioners such as chiropractors, naturopaths, chiropodists or podiatrists, optometrists, or Christian Science practitioners.

Generally, in figuring the $50 deductible, you will count only your expenses for covered services received between January 1 and December 31 of the calendar year. You cannot, of course, count any expenses for services received before the first month your medical insurance protection begins. For example, if you are already 65 or over and you enroll before the month you were 65, expenses incurred before the month you were 65 or before July 1, 1966 would not count.

If you failed to sign up for medical insurance before the month you were 65, then incurred medical expenses cannot count toward the deductible until from one to six months after you sign up, depending on what time you elect to take the medical insurance coverage.

Under a special provision, you can sometimes count your expenses in the last three months of a year toward the $50 deductible for that year and for the next year too. This happens when: your expenses for covered services in a year are $50 or less - in this event the covered expenses you have in the last three months of the year can count toward the $50 deductible for the next year; or your expenses for covered services did not go over $50 until the last three months of the year - in this event count the expense you have in the last three months of the year toward the deductible for that year and toward the next year's $50 deductible.

Even after these explanations about Medicare, there are many

Accident Causing

Driver Aided By

Highway Accomplish

Have you ever been irked by a so-called Slow Poke driver and wondered what to do about it.

Of course, most drivers have, many times. And it's a common belief that slow drivers often are responsible for many highway accidents.

If so, his accomplice is the impatient driver.

There are two things to be done about slow drivers. One is to slow down yourself, take it easy, wait out the little jam-up. Stay clear, and watch out for the impatient car coming around behind.

Don't be in a big hurry to get hurt.

The other possibility is to signal the slower driver and ask for a clear roadway, when it is practical for him to give it.

Any way you look at it, it's best to keep cool, wait out the pile-up. Who's in such a hurry anyhow? The hospital can wait.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

"This is not a time for hysteria," says Russell Tinsley in his outdoors column in the Austin American-Statesman. We agree so fully with what he has to say about guns and killers that we are reproducing his comments in full for your own consideration.

This latest massacre incident at The University of Texas provides even more hysterical fodder for ban-the-gun advocates. Considering the circumstances that is understandable. But let's be realistic about it all.

Even if we would have the stringent firearms law now being pondered by Congress, one Charles J. Whitman still would have qualified to obtain both guns and ammunition. There was nothing in his past record to deny such a request. He had no criminal record, his character references were impeccable, he was a former scoutmaster, he was honorably discharged from the U. S. Marine Corps, he was not a known alcoholic or mental case. Viewed realistically, he was an All-American boy. Yet in our society people like this often create havoc. It would have been impossible to deny Whitman a gun without denying it to every other American citizen.

Anyway, a deer rifle is not normally a weapon of violence. It is much too prominent to be carried about. Yet in this instance an ordinary deer rifle, one that is quite popular among Texas hunters, wrote a dubious and gory page of history.

Ironically, when the massacre started, the police were ill-equipped to do anything about it. Long-range rifles, scope sighted, are not standard issue. They are seldom needed. Yet in this case pistols and sawed-off shotguns were practically worthless. The sniper had all the advantages.

Sniper Exposing Himself

In the first few minutes the sniper was roaming about the observation tower and firing at his victims with impunity. Roy Reeves, a well-known Austin hunter, was standing in his print shop at 308 W. 25th St., looking at the University Tower from his back door. He could clearly see the sniper walking about, firing at random. Reeves said the sniper would have been "easy pickings" with his deer rifle. He wouldn't have been a difficult shot. Yet no one on the ground was equipped with such armament at the time.

Meanwhile, the sniper was hitting people at long distances. His arsenal included a 6-mm rifle with a four-power scope sight, a .35 Remington rifle and an Army surplus carbine in .30 caliber.

Obviously these extremely long and accurate shots were made with the 6 mm Remington. Neither the .35 Remington or carbine is capable of such marksmanship, not even in the hands of a skilled shooter.

The 6-mm Remington, then, is just a rifle, a weapon designed for deer hunting and not violence. The gun didn't kill. The man behind it, aiming through a scope and pulling the trigger, killed. Perhaps Whitman would have made some homemade bombs and lobbed them off the tower into the suspecting crowd below. When a person sets his mind on killing and is willing to sacrifice his life, in the process, then all the odds are in his favor.

Many people were amazed that so many victims died. Actually, knowing the capabilities of the 6-mm rifle since I hunt with one, it is surprising to me that of the number wounded, so few died. The 6-mm is capable of utter destruction. One of the modern high-velocity cartridges, it can reach far out with fairly flat trajectory and it carries a tremendous wallop when it hits.
